The Association for Supply Chain Management Announces 2025 Board of Directors

CHICAGO - January 17, 2025 -- The Association for Supply Chain Management (ASCM) today announced its 2025 Board of Directors. Featuring three newly appointed members and nine incumbents, this esteemed group will spearhead ASCM's mission to build resilient, sustainable, and inclusive supply chains for a better world.

Supply chain disruptions are a global challenge requiring collaborative solutions. The 2025 Board is committed to working with industry leaders, policymakers and stakeholders across the supply chain to build a more resilient and sustainable future. Priorities include bolstering data and cybersecurity, supporting workforce development and equitable opportunities, and fostering innovation to address the evolving complexities of the global supply chain.

"With Paul Pittman at the helm as our Board Chair, ASCM is poised to successfully overcome the challenges ahead," stated ASCM CEO Abe Eshkenazi, CSCP, CPA, CAE. "Paul's extensive experience and forward-thinking approach will be invaluable to our organization. We are thrilled to welcome his leadership to the ASCM Board of Directors."

"Our Board members represent the very best in supply chain knowledge and dedication," continued Eshkenazi. "Their diverse backgrounds and unwavering commitment will be crucial as we work to guide the future of the industry."
